BIG LONDON OFFER FOR DEMPSEY

$125,000 and Expenses to Meet Carpentier; New Orleans Also Wants the Bout

Bids for a world-championship bout between Jack Dempsey, present title holder, and Georges Carpentier, whose conquest of Joe Beckett in London gave him the European championship, began to come in today.

The latest was an offer of $125,000, made by the National Sporting Club of London in a telegram to Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, and sent in care of the sporting editor of the Chicago Evening American.

A previous offer of $150,000 for a twenty-round battle in New Orleans, on March 17, had been received by Kearns in Los Angeles from D. K. Tortorich of that city.

LIBERAL LONDON OFFER.

The National Sporting Club offer, sent in care of Ed Smith, was made by Eddie McGoorty. In his cablegram he stated that, in order to secure the big battle the club will allow Dempsey $2,000 travelling expenses and his training expenses and will post $25,000 with any bank in that city the day Dempsey signs the articles of agreement.

C. B. Cochran, who promoted the Carpentier-Beckett fight, will leave for the United States next week to enter into personal negotiations with Dempsey, according to dispatches from London.

The same dispatches quoted M. Deschamps, manager of Carpentier, as saying: "There is no question in my mind but what Carpentier will defeat Dempsey."

ANXIOUS FOR BATTLE.

Just before leaving London for a rest, Carpentier declared that he was ready to meet Dempsey for the championship of the world.

Dempsey at Los Angeles declared today he would meet Carpentier or any other fighter if he got his price.

Brr! New York's 'L' Trains Heatless Tomorrow

New York, Dec. 5.—New York's subway and elevated system will be heatless tomorrow, following an order issued by Public Service Commissioner Lewis Nixon.

Mr. Nixon's order suspending the operation of the heating ordinance during rush hours, was the result of a conference with the heads of public utility corporations to discuss methods to curtail the use of coal, in compliance with the orders of Dr. Hardy A. Garfield, National Fuel Administrator.

SCORE INDICTED IN $200,000 R.R. ROBBERIES

Providence, Dec. 5.—Merchandize thefts from the New Haven Railroad amounting to $200,000, and the existence of a "master mind" controlling an organized gang of thieves were revealed today when a score of persons, including several women and a number of railroad employes, were indicted by the Grand Jury. About thirty other indictments were returned, mostly in liquor cases.

The railroad thefts cover all New England and have baffled road and Federal officials for a long period. It is expected that a number of other suspects, several of whom have left the city will be indicted. It is believed U. S. Marshal John J. Richards will communicate with United States marshals in other States to ask for arrests of the indicted men.

The arch criminal of the organization is known to have headquarters in this city and branches all over New England. In spite of the fact that the Grand Jury has been investigating the wholesale thieving from the railroad, the thefts have continued. Only last Wednesday three cases of cloth were stolen, and government officials have gathered a large amount of stolen property from outlying sections of the State.

SUPPLY OF SOFT COAL REDUCED

Heat Shut Off Elevated Cars Between 6:30 and 9 A. M. and 4 and 6:30 P. M.

With only forty days' surplus supply of soft coal on hand and its normal weekly supply cut to the bone, the Boston Elevated Railway today began to run heatless trains and cars throughout Greater Boston during the rush hours.

The order to stop heating "L" trains went into effect without notice to the public and not until late today did it become known that no trains or cars would be heated between the hours of 6:30 and 9 in the morning and 4 to 6:30 at night.

The usual weekly supply of the Elevated is from 10,000 to 12,000 tons. Since the coal strike the Road has been receiving but 7,000 tons a week, it was explained, necessitating the drastic measures taken. If the weekly supply falls far below 7,000 tons there is no telling what measures may be taken, it was said today.

What knowledge that the Elevated had to into effect the drastic order of heatless cars, thousands of Boston business men and women rode

Boxing Fans Smash Xmas Fund Record by $517.51 Gift

The Boston American Christmas Basket Fund was given a big boost by a collection of $517.51 from fans who attended the Young Kloby-Paul Doyle boxing bout in Mechanics Building under the auspices of the Fenway Athletic Association.

This is the largest collection ever taken up at a sporting event in this section, toppling the collection made at George V. Tuohey's wrestling tournament by $178.56.

The crowd at the Kolby-Doyle bout was one of the most enthusiastic that ever attended a match. They realized that every nickel of the money they contributed will be used in the purchase of baskets of plain,

CHARLES LOGUE, former Boston city official and prominent in building trade, who died suddenly today. Photo by Conlin.

CHARLES LOGUE DROPS DEAD ON ROOF

Charles Logue, well known builder and former chairman of the Boston Schoolhouse Commission, dropped dead on the roof of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Dedham today.

The roof is 100 feet above the street and Mr. Logue, who was inspecting structural work there, would undoubtedly have fallen to the ground had it not been for the prompt action of workmen who ran to assist him where he fell.

Mr. Logue went to Dedham today to inspect work being done on St. Mary's Catholic Church by the La Plante Company, Boston builders. Mr. Logue was there on behalf of the Charles Logue Building Company of No. 2 Tremont street, of which he was head.

Mr. Logue appeared to be in perfect health when he ascended the 100-foot roof. The noise made when his body struck attracted the workers, who rushed to his aid. Mr. Logue was carried to the rectory of the church and Dr. Edward W. Finn was called.

The physician said death probably was due to heart disease. Medical Examiner Andrew H. Hodgdon viewed the body.

Mr. Logue was regarded as one of the most capable department heads in the city service. The building of modern schoolhouses with plenty of light, spacious playgrounds, heat in Winter and air in Summer was both a hobby and an ideal with him. He became head of the Schoolhouse Commission in 1908 at a salary of $4,000 a year. Several times he tried to resign and once actually resigned, but was forced by Mayor Curley to withdraw his resignation.

ARREST IN RANDOLPH ROBBERY

Suspect Captured in Toledo Is Charged With $40,000 Bank Job

The alleged leader of the bandits, who three weeks ago raided the Randolph Savings Bank and got away with $40,000 in cash and bonds, is under arrest today in Toledo, O., according to advices from that city.

Steps were taken today by Chief Hanley of the Randolph police to secure his extradition to Massachusetts.

The suspect, who gives his name as Joseph Coughlin, was seized during a big roundup of suspected thieves in Toledo. He was held in $15,000 for a hearing December 9.

He is alleged to have offered for sale in that city the entire batch of bonds stolen from the Randolph bank.

The roundup of thieves in Toledo was engineered by the Pinkerton detectives from Boston, who received information two weeks ago that bonds stolen from the Randolph bank had appeared in the Ohio city. Coughlin's arrest resulted.

The robbery of the Randolph Savings Bank took place on the afternoon of November 17, almost $40,000 worth of money and securities being taken. About $6,000 of this was in cash and the rest in Liberty Bonds.

The holdup was one of the most daring in the Massachusetts records. Four armed men, timing their visit so as to avoid interference from customers, drove up to the door of the bank in a touring car just before closing time.

BOUND TREASURER.

Two entered, "stalled" by pretending to transact business until the only customer, a woman, had left, and then vaulted over the partition that enclosed the officials' section and took prisoner the treasurer, N. Irving Tolman, and his assistant, Miss Frances Howard.

These were bound and gagged and dragged to the rear. At that point the other two men left the machine, entered the building, drew down the curtains and closed the door.

George W. Glidden, opening the door at that moment, on an errand with Miss Howard, was also seized and gagged. The robbers worked skilfully and rapidly, showing that careful preparations had been made.

USED STOLEN AUTO.

The mouths of the prisoners were closed with adhesive tape, their wrists bound with new skate straps, and their limbs with clothesline. The whole proceeding took only twenty-three minutes. While it was in progress Chief of Police Hanley walked past the building, but as by that time it was due to be closed, he noted nothing unusual.

After the departure of the thieves, the two men managed to release each other and then Miss Howard, and a general alarm was sent broadcast. The car in which the thieves appeared had been stolen, and was later abandoned by the roadside while the four took an Elevated train to Boston From that time, a careful watch has been kept for the sale of the securities, of which a list was made public.

12,000,000 Pounds of Sugar Coming Here in Four Days

Boston will receive nearly 12,000,000 pounds of sugar between now and Monday. The steamship Lake Butler, from Antilla, Cuba, today began discharging 4,700,000 pounds at the Revere Sugar Refinery Wharf, Mystic river; and the steamship Lake Dasha, from Nuevitas, Cuba, is expected Monday with 7,200,000 pounds for the American Sugar Refinery.

With the exception of a very few more cargoes, this marks the last of the 1919 crop destined for Boston. The 1920 crop is not due until some time in January.

PRESIDENT SEES SENATORS ON MEXICO

By International News Service.

Washington, Dec. 5.—President Wilson agreed today to see Senators Hitchcock and Fall this afternoon, it was announced at the White House today.

Senator Hitchcock telephoned to the White House at 10:30 o'clock last night to see if an audience could be had with President Wilson. He told Secretary Tumulty that it was not necessary to see the Chief Executive today, but that Saturday, Sunday, or even Monday would do. Thus matters were left until today.

This morning Mrs. Wilson announced to Secretary Tumulty that the President desired to see the committee of two from the Senate as early as possible, and set the time for 2:30 p. m.

The Mexican crisis, therefore, is now up to the President, along with all the complex situations arising out of it.

All the rumors and reports as to the President's incapacity, owing to illness, to deal with affairs of state will now be definitely settled, as well as the question mooted yesterday in the Senate as to whether the President knew anything whatsoever of

NEW OUTRAGE ON AMERICAN SOIL

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 5.—A special to the San Antonio Evening News from Laredo, Tex., says:

"County Judge A. P. Spohn of Zapata County, who is in Laredo this morning, received a telephone message from Zapata apprising him of a raid by a gang of Mexican bandits on the Clareno ranch, 11 miles down the Rio Grande from the town of Zapata, late last night.

"How many bandits were in the gang could not be stated, but there were quite a number. They crossed the Rio Grande late last night, went to the general store on the ranch, bound and gagged the storekeeper and tied him to a post, then proceeded to loot the store, taking all provisions in the place, packing them on several horses belonging to the ranch owner, Scrapio Vela, of Laredo, and then crossing back to the Mexican side of the Rio Grande."

"Other than the storekeeper nobody else on the ranch was molested and the bandits worked fast in gathering up the provisions in the store and packing them on the stolen horses.

"Judge Spohn this morning communicated the facts of the raid to Captain W. M. Hanson, investigator of the Senate committee investigating the Mexican situation, who is at present in Laredo, and Captain Hanson immediately communicated the facts to Senator Fall and his committee in Washington."

the Jenkins affair and the present complications with Mexico.

Some of the Senators charged that the President had not been informed of the situation. Senator Hitchcock affirmed that it was his understanding that the President knew all, even down to the Fall resolution demanding withdrawal of recognition of Carranza and breaking off diplomatic relations with the Mexican government.

The Foreign Relations Committee, to which the resolution was referred, requested Secretary of State Lansing to appear before it, and though the secretary was questioned behind closed doors, information was forthcoming that the secretary admitted that he had not personally talked with the President on the subject of Mexico.

Thereupon, by a vote of 6 to 5, a committee of two, composed of Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, of Nebraska, and Senator Fall, Republican, of New Mexico, was appointed to seek an interview with President Wilson to learn his views and desires before taking further steps in the Mexican dispute.

President Wilson's cabinet met today. The session today was called because the regular meeting on Tuesday was postponed. The Mexican situation and the coal crisis were discussed.

U. S. Rushes War Planes, More Troops Being Sent to Stations on Border

Preparations for quick action in case of American intervention in Mexico are being pushed with great rapidity on the border.

United States troops are being concentrated at various points. Texas Rangers are being recruited and mobilized, and construction of an aircraft station at El Paso is under way.

Plans are being made to bring Americans out of Mexico, and in some cases business firms have given definite instructions to their employes to withdraw at once.

General Pershing is on his way from Washington to visit the border army posts, which it is expected will be ready for any emergency by the time of his arrival.

Secretary Daniels has stated that the navy is ready for any service, and that the Atlantic fleet will be adequately manned when it sails from Guantanamo, Cuba, on January 5, for Winter manoeuvres.

Soldiers on strike duty in New Mexico mining districts have been ordered withdrawn and returned to their stations at El Paso and Columbus, N. M.

Governor W. P. Hobby of Texas has issued an order calling for the organization of emergency companies of Rangers, who will be mobilized as soon as they can be recruited. The new Rangers will come from the ranches and border communities, but the exact number has not been determined. These recruits will bring the Rangers up to the greatest strength in their history.

As soon as a hangar now under construction near Fort Bliss is completed, one of the twin-engine airships recently acquired by the army will be placed in service, and the work of patrolling the border begun. The station will be organized by the 8th Balloon Company, under Lieutenant Byron T. Burt.

"The results of the work at this station will be watched with keen interest," according to announcement by the Army Air Service, "as the establishment of additional stations on the border is dependent upon the success of this initial station."

NEW HAVEN ROAD NEARS COAL SHORTAGE

Drawing on Its Surplus Supply, Sufficient Only to Last 60 Days at Most

to work in the elevated trains and trolleys which contained no heat save that given out by their own bodies.

On the eve of a sweeping curtailment of train service throughout New England, it was announced today that the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad was receiving practically no coal for its own consumption and was depending entirely upon its surplus supply. This surplus supply, it was said, would last approximately fifty or sixty days.

Howard A. Moulton, publicity director for the New Haven road, made the announcement today. The New York, New Haven & Hartford road consumes between 6,000 and 7,000 tons of soft coal a day and the whole of this amount is being drawn from the surplus supply, which figures approximately 300,000 tons, he said.

TO CURTAIL TRAINS.

Plans for a sweeping curtailment of train service are being worked out by the Railroad Administration, and the order for a cut-down in New England train service is expected almost hourly. The curtailment will probably go into effect the day after the order is received by the local roads, it was said.

Although no details as to just what lines the curtailment will hit have been made public it was intimated by Mr. Moulton today that the cut would in all probability follow along the lines of the cut-down during the railroad strike. This means that all luxury travel will be eliminated—the Pullman service will be discontinued—the suburban train service cut to the bone if not discontinued altogether.

As the most convenient day for both the railroad and public for the curtailment to be put in effect would be Sunday, the order for the cut-down may be made public by the railroad administration late today or tomorrow.

PRIORITY LIST.

The New England sub-committee handling the local coal situation announced today that industrial plants and manufacturing centres must make their applications for coal through the railroad which handles their supply and not direct to the committee.

Following along the restrictions set down by Fuel Administrator Garfield the New England committee announced that it would provide for requirements in the order of priority on the following preference list:

1. Railroads (steam); also includes bunker coal for inland and coastwise vessels after reserve for steam railroads is assured.

2. Army and navy; together with other departments of the Federal government.

3. State and county departments and institutions; includes municipal institutions and general hospitals to which the government contributes.

HOSPITALS TO BE SUPPLIED.

4. Public utilities; includes such portions of commercial plants as furnished public utilities; also includes newsprint paper makers and users, manufacturers of food and food products including refrigeration; also manufacturers of food containers if in the discretion of the committee.

5. Retail dealers; includes coal delivered by such dealers for domestic consumption to hotels, apartment houses, hospitals, stores, etc.

For the release of commercial bituminous coal at all Atlantic tidewater ports for coastwise shipment to New England consignees, the sub-committee announced the following procedure:

"The application must be executed by the consumer except in the case of a retail dealer or wholesaler shipping coal to its own wharf, or for transhipment over New England railroad terminals, which retails dealer or wholesaler may execute by application, shall be required for each and every cargo, giving the name of the vessel, tonnage required, loading port, name of transhipper who is to provide the coal, name of consignee, together with other details as to stock on hand, daily requirements and preferred list applicable."

Every application must be filed with the New England sub-committee at room No. 451, South Station.

Mine Operators, Worried Over Probe, Engage in Conference at Capital

By International News Service.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Coal operators from all of the States east of the Mississippi affected by the strike, are gathered in an informal secret conference in Washington today to discuss the coal famine and the investigation of the coal industry by a Federal Grand Jury at Indianapolis.

The operators were plainly in a distressed state of mind, refusing to talk about the process of a grand jury probe.

The operators asserted that they had done their utmost to get the mines re-opened. In a few instances there were emphatic denials that there has been any collusion to keep the mines closed.

A general denial that any of the operators have connived with miners during the present year to restrict the operating time of the mines or limit the output of coal is expected to be made later today. It is upon this point, it is said, that the Federal Grand Jury in Indianapolis will pivot the prospective inquiry.

A statement issued by the operators' committee today emphatically denied that the coal operators were asking for a reconsideration of the amount of the wage increase granted the miners under the recommendation of Dr. Garfield.

The strike is gradually breaking, Judge C. B. Ames, assistant attorney-general, today stated. He said reports reaching the Department of Justice indicate that the coal miners are gradually returning to their work.

There are now about fifty per cent of the miners at work, according to Judge Ames.

Judge Ames leaves tomorrow for Indianapolis, where he will assist Judge Anderson in the prosecution of the contempt of court proceedings and in the Grand Jury investigation of the coal strike.

Boycott of Necessaries of Life Started Against Coal Miners in Illinois

By International News Service.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—A boycott of clothing, food, fuel and other necessaries of life was started today against miners of Illinois, whose strike has reduced working hours throughout the State, crippled transportation and brought suffering in its wake.

A prominent member of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association started the boycott, and in a letter to Secretary John M. Glenn of the association, urged other Illinois merchants to join in the movement.

"I have held up every order that comes from a mining community," he wrote. "I will continue to hold up every order as long as the strike is on, and they prevent coal from coming to us.

"We have a right to fight with the same weapons they use, "the letter continued. "If they want to make us surrender through cold, we can withhold food and try to bring them to time with hunger."

Glynn declared that members of the association probably would consider the "boycott" at an early meeting and that within a "short time" the mining communities may find themselves short of food, clothing and other necessities."

Coal Shortage Puts Out Fires at Fourteen Narrow Gauge Stations

Because of the coal shortage an order was issued today by Superintendent John A. Fenno of the Narrow Gauge railway to station agents to refrain from making fires in stoves. The order reads:

"Until further notice, on account of the coal situation, there will be no fires in the following-named stations:

"Wood Island, Harbor View, Beachmont, Winthrop Beach, Revere street, Oak Island, Point of Pines, Ingalls, Winthrop Centre, Thornton, Playstead, Ocean Spray, Winthrop Highlands, Battery and Pleasant streets. Toilet rooms will be closed where there are any.

"For the present fires will be kept in the following named stations:

"Boston, Orient Heights, West Lynn, Lynn and Winthrop Beach.

Another order reads:

"Commencing Sunday, December 7, and until further notice the station agents only will be on duty at the following stations: Revere Street, Engalls, Thornton, Ocean Spray, Winthrop Highlands and Battery.

"Ticket offices in these stations will be opened on weekdays from 6 a. m. to 11 a. m., and on Sunday from 12 noon to 8 p. m."

This is advice straight from Mrs. George Bass, chairman of the Woman's Bureau of the National Democratic Committee. The women will elect the next President of the United States," she announced today, and the man who wins must be one who appeals to their imagination.

"By that I mean a vivid man—one of forceful personality and vision.

"With the suffrage amendment ratified—and I look for it to be ratified by January 15—the women will have 18,000,000 votes in the 1920 election. Enough of them will vote to control the election.

"The men need not feel alarmed. The women are not going to seize the big offices.

TO RUN FOR CONGRESS.

"A number of women will run for Congress in the next campaign, but I do not expect any of them to be elected. The men do not want them in Congress yet. It will take a long time to educate the men to surrender the big places to the women.

"It will be in the States east of the Mississippi that the women will show the most activity in campaigning for places in Congress and other important offices. This is because the Eastern women are more homogenous than those in the West. Communities are not so far apart, and it is easy for the women to come together and plan.

"Women will be elected to the Legislature in many States," the Democratic woman leader continued. "I look for the women of Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois to make the most political gains. In those States the women are more influential than anywhere else. The women of Illinois were powerful even before they won the ballot.

"When may we expect to see a woman president of the United States?

"That's a thing too remote even to discuss. However," she added, "miracles happen sometimes in these days, and things are changing with such amazing rapidity that one may expect anything to happen.

AND IN THE YEAR 1924!

"In the 1924 campaign, probably, we will see women candidates for the presidency and vice-presidency spring up, but it will be many years before a woman will be considered seriously for either office.

"The women may feel elated with the gains they have already made. They are tremendous gains. Think of it! Women will have equal votes with the men in running the next Democratic campaign! The Democratic men have taken them into full partnership. Seventeen women are to be appointed to sit with the seventeen men members of the Democratic national executive committee. Platforms of both parties will be written with a consciousness of an important new factor in politics and both will make declarations of special appeal to the women."

CHRISTMAS MAIL MAY BE HELD UP BY COAL STRIKE

Washington, Dec. 5.—Mail Christmas parcels early and avoid disappointment. This is the warning of the Postoffice Department, because the coal strike has caused a reduction of train service on some railroads and further curtailment is doubtless to be necessary as the strike continues.

GEORGE S. LADD INDICTED IN CASE OF NEWBERRY

George S. Ladd of Sturbridge, a former master of the Massachusetts State Grange and prominent in grange circles throughout the United States, has been indicted with Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan, charged with fraud and conspiracy in connection with the Newberry campaign.

The serving of the indictment summons was announced today.

Grange circles were astonished when it became known that Ladd was in any way mixed in Michigan politics.

Ladd, accompanied by Mrs. Ladd, who was a lecturer of the Massachusetts Grange, and Ceres of the national grange were in Grand Rapids, Mich., two weeks ago attending the national convention of the grange.

It is also charged that Mrs. Ladd was one of the hardest workers in Michigan for Senator Newberry, speaking in many places in favor of his candidacy.

Government agents who have ferreted out the evidence against the United States Senator and those alleged to have been participants with him in the alleged misuse of money for campaign purposes, declare that Ladd has been among the most active men in the Michigan campaign.

Ladd is well known in Massachusetts. His name has frequently been mentioned in connection with political campaigns or bond issues in this State, Pennsylvania and the national capital.

Ladd will appear to answer to the charge in Grand Rapids probably tomorrow.

Claim is made that while Ladd and his wife have been prominent in grange affairs, they have also been very active in State and national politics. While Ladd was in Grand Rapids, it is said, he was doing some strenuous talking for the proposed candidacy of General Wood for President.

Coincident with the announcement of the indictment of Ladd, came from Grand Rapids today, the statement that charges of perjury are to be made against many of those already indicted, in reference to the filing of the expense account for Senator Newberry's campaign. There are four counts in the second indictment covering the filing of statements of expense before and after the primary and before and after the election.

ROLLINS DENIES ASSERTING HE KILLED FOLEY

Says He Was in Saloon When Tea Store Manager Was Slain

Taking the stand in his own behalf, Charles Rollins declared today that he had no connection with the murder of Edward F. Foley, Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company manager, of which he is accused, and asserted that he was in a saloon at the time it was alleged to have occurred.

Rollins emphatically denied the statement of John J. Mitchell that he had informed Mitchell shortly afterward that he had killed Foley.

The defendant said that on night of February 17, 1917, when the State alleges he killed Foley in the Blue Hill avenue store, he was in Finnegan's saloon at the corner of Dorchester avenue and Greenwich street.

OUT A FEW MINUTES.

Rollins said he went to the saloon at 8 p. m. and remained until shortly before closing time, with the exception of a few minutes when he visited a wholesale liquor store on Linden street to buy bottled goods. He had worked until about 2 o'clock that afternoon, he said, but admitted he had been drinking during the day. He said he was an electrician by trade, and was working for his brother, Walter Rollins, at the time. He continued in the employ of his brother until his arrest on March 8, 1917.

Asked by his attorney if he had any connection with the murder, he replied: "None whatever." Rollins declared he first learned of the case by reading the newspapers the following morning.

BROTHER DENIES THREAT.

The defendant followed another brother, Edward H. Rollins, who testified that when the police went to their home at No. 22 Gibson street on February 27, 1917, Charles Rollins said nothing to them. The State, previously in the trial, had introduced policemen who testified that on a visit to the Rollins home on that date they were refused admission, while a man's voice from within threatened, "Don't come in, I have a thirty-eight revolver and will shoot."

Miss Ruth Rollins, twenty-one, a sister, testified that her brother had been seriously ill ever since the trial started. Proceedings were delayed an hour and a half today because of a conference between counsel and Judge John Dowd, on the admissibility of certain evidence.

WOMAN TENANT PAYS $30 FINE FOR ASSAULT

Mrs. Helen Dignan of South Boston, although notified a month ago that her rent would be raised from $17 to $18 a month, refused to pay more than $17 when she went to the real estate office of Miss Caroline M. Beckler, of No. 594 East Broadway. Miss Beckler refused the $17, but refused a receipt, whereupon Mrs. Dignan fell upon Miss Beckler, "threw her around" a little and "rolled her roll." The aftermath came today when Mrs. Dignan paid a fine of $30 in the South Boston court for assault and battery.

MOVES TO BRING BODIES OF U. S. BOYS FROM FRANCE

Washington, Dec. 5.—France will be requested by Congress at an early date to facilitate legislation for speedy return of bodies of American soldiers now interred in that country. The House Foreign Affairs Committee plans a joint resolution embodying the request and directing the Secretary of War to arrange for transportation of the bodies to the residences of next of kin in this country. The cost will run into the millions.

U. S. ORDERS 20 FAST DESTROYERS IN ENGLAND

London, Dec. 5.—The United States has ordered twenty torpedo boat destroyers from Samuel White Company, East Cowes, the Pall Mall Gazette said today. The destroyers resemble the latest British warcraft of that type, displacing 1,215 tons and having engines with 28,000 horsepower. The speed is 35 knots.

Plot in Belgium to Overthrow King Albert

By Universal Service.
Special Cable Dispatch.

Paris, Dec. 5.—"The movement afoot in Belgium to overthrow the throne, according to the newspaper L'Intransigeant, is the reason for King Albert's failure to attend the opening session of the new Belgian parliament.

"Belgium," the newspaper adds, "is thus added to the list of imperilled monarchies, which includes Spain, Italy and Rumania."

WIFE'S DIARY LED HUSBAND TO SUSPECT

Also Caught Soldier Going Out Back Door, so Asks Separation

New Bedford, Dec. 5.—Gilbert H. Brightman of No. 101 Cedar street, who seeks separation from his wife, Alice E. Brightman, said he was married to her November 20, 1914, and left her June 4, 1917. His reason was because as he went in the front door that night a man in army uniform went out the back door.

He went out so fast Brightman didn't find out who he was, and his wife wouldn't tell him.

Brightman was in the Federal service from late in 1917 until early this year. When he returned he went to see his wife and she wasn't in. He found some letters addressed to Alice E. Wood—that being her maiden name—all from different men she had been with, and describing the "good times" they had had.

He also found a diary in a drawer in her bedroom and it was in her handwriting.

"Let's see it," ordered Edward T. Bannon, who appeared as attorney for the libellant.

Witness reached for the diary in an inside vest pocket.

"Next to your heart," the attorney commented.

"No; on the other side," Brightman replied.

In the diary witness said, he found memoranda showing his wife's residence in different names, and quotations and entries showing she was lonesome for another man. One entry showed when a check for $100 came to her. Another said: "Went to Boston—some time!" In other words "roll." The aftermath came today when Mrs. Dignan paid a fine of $30 in the South Boston court for assault and battery.

ALLIES PLAN TO OCCUPY CITIES IN GERMANY

Will Take Frankfort and Essen if Germans Do Not Sign Protocol

London, Dec. 5. — The allies will occupy Frankfort and Essen unless the Germans sign forthwith the ratification protocol of the peace treaty, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Paris today.

Paris, Dec. 5.—Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, chief of the Imperial British staff, attended a secret meeting of the supreme council, at which the allies discussed measures to be taken if Germany refuses to sign the protocol of ratification, the Matin stated today. The Germans probably will be called upon immediately to sign the protocol, it was said.

There are hints current that the allies intend to extend their military occupation in Germany. Baron von Lersner, head of the German delegation, announced through his secretary, Herr Meyer, that Dr. von Simons and the other German experts would return to Paris from Berlin on the following conditions:

1.—That the allies and associated powers accept Germany's suggestion that the question of reparation for the sinking of the interned German fleet at Scapa Flow be submitted to the Hague Tribunal;

2.—That the final paragraph of the protocol of ratification threatening coercive measures against Germany be eliminated;

3.—That the allies agree to a discussion of technical points, such as the delivery of materials.

It was stated in American circles that there was not the slightest chance that the allies would agree to these conditions.

TUCK CANDIDATE FOR NATIONAL DELEGATE

Whitfield Tuck of Winchester today announced his candidacy for delegate to the Democratic national convention from the Eight Congressional District. Mr. Tuck will support a candidate for President and a platform that declare for public ownership of public utilities, "If the League of Nations is an issue," he said, "I will be opposed to it in its present form. I do not believe in a league that denies freedom to small nations and gives any nation larger representation in the United States Senate. While not declaring for any candidate, he added, "The convention will not nominate a candidate objectionable to Mr. Bryan."

THREE CONVICTED IN SCOLLAY SQUARE RIOT

Three convictions, one disagreement and two acquittals, were the findings of a Superior Court jury today in the appealed cases of six sailors arrested in the recent Scollay Square riots. They were originally given six months each by Judge Murray in Municipal Court. All but two, Richard Donovan and Stanley Minkchinski, appealed. Today Raymond Gustafson, Arthur Pedersen and Arthur C. Goodman were found guilty and sentence was postponed. The jury disagreed in the case of Peter J. Mallo. Arnold Marks and Carl Miller were acquitted.

SPLIT CONTRACT PROBE ASKED BY MAYOR

Involves Award of Contract by Chairman Shea of Park and Recreation Board

Following the American's exclusive story of attempted bribery by politicians to cover up the robbery of thousands of dollars from the city by the "split contract" system, the Finance Commission today began a probe of another case of charter violation in the Park and Recreation Department.

Mayor Peters, aroused by the series of American exposes, refused to approve an unadvertised contract for $2,362, submitted to him after the deal was closed, and called upon the Finance Commission to investigate the circumstances of the award.

That the Mayor intends to put a stop to all violations of the city charter as well as to uproot the vicious "split contract" system, he made plain by his action in turning over all the facts in his possession to the commission, with the request that its members speedily advise him of what action to take.

Chairman James M. Shea of the City Park and Recreation Department is one of the best known city department heads and that he should have approved a contract for the sum specified without advertising or seeking the Mayor's consent, in view of the agitation which followed Thomas J. Dawson's removal, has fairly stunned City Hall.

The contractor involved is J. C. Coleman & Sons Co. Last Monday the Mayor received a letter from Chairman Shea of the Park and Recreation Commissioners, in explanation of the case.

It appears that when the contract for improving Winthrop square was first advertised the lowest bid was higher than the sum of $14,000, which had been appropriated for the work. Subsequently, part of the proposed work eliminated, the lowest bid on the second advertisement was $10,-914.50, submitted by the Coleman Company. "Additional improvements were recommended by A. A. Shurtleff, landscape architect, amounting to $846," according to the letter the Mayor received. "It was then found that there was still money enough to do the surrounding the playground, which work was recommended by the landscape architect.

"It was not a question of season, however," continued Chairman Shea's letter, "that it would not be advisable to lose time in advertising for a new contract, and as the addition was agreed to by the present contractor at a less amount than was paid him for the original contract, by reason of the fact that there was no expense for excavation. It was deemed advisable to order the contractor, Coleman, to perform the additional work at the price specified."

The Coleman company is now carrying on the additional work under this order.

Emma Goldman Says She Will Return in 5 Years

By International News Service.

New York, Dec. 5.—Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, anarchists, were delivered to Ellis Island authorities today for deportation to Russia. Officials had anticipated a "Red" demonstration by their friends, but the proceeding went off quietly. Harry Weinberger, their attorney, said he would apply for a writ of habeas corpus later in the day. Berkman was silent, but Emma displayed her usual volubility.

"We'll go if we have to," she said, "but Soviet America will call us back in five years.

"We have nothing to fear in Russia. There is at least democracy there. Here the real government is in Wall street."

PEACE RESOLVE UP TO SENATE, SAYS ROGERS

Explains House Committee Attitude on Tinkham's Proposed Measure

Washington, Dec. 5.—The House will not act on a resolution declaring war at an end with Germany until after the Senate shall have acted on such a resolution.

Representative Rogers of Massachusetts, ranking Republican member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, made clear today the position of House leaders on this subject following introduction yesterday in the House of a peace resolution by Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts.

"When the Senate shall have passed such a resolution it will be notice to the House," said Rogers, "that there has been abandonment of the German peace treaty and League of Nations covenant by the Senate and that the peace resolution has been decided on as the best way of formally ending the war with Germany —a formality which many desire to have completed as soon as practical."

The separation of laundry work

"IN all modern laundries perhaps the most responsible job is that of classifying the work.

Just think of the many different fibres in the many kinds of goods that are received. There are silks, woolens, mercerized cottons, plain cottons, linens, and the many mixtures of these fibres.

It was not until I heard Miss Alice Wakefield, Junior Fellow at the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, Pittsburg, Pa., describe what science has done to solve the problem of washing clothes, that I realized how great, how complicated, how important that problem is.

For five years the Laundrowners National Association has maintained at Mellon Institute a laundry fellowship. An experimental laundry is operated which is developing correct methods for the laundering of clothes with the least possible wear. All guesswork is eliminated. These trained, scientific-thinking college workers deal with facts. They are scientists and to get the exact truth is their work.

This fellowship also analyzes the soaps and supplies used in the laundries of its members. Eight hundred and twenty-nine samples have been analyzed. As a result standard purchasing specifications are available to the members of the association. The fellowship in five years has answered over 1700 requests for advice—showing that laundries want to better the work they are doing.

Even damaged garments are sent to Mellon Institute. The examination disclosed a field of investigation in fabric making and conservation hitherto unsuspected.

Modern science, you see, is at the command of laundrowners. No one can become acquainted with the complicated problem of washing clothes in the correct way without having increased respect for the modern public laundry

The things that white people are ever so much better to think and talk about than the things that dazzle. Troubles that result from misunderstanding can be settled by talking things over in a frank, friendly manner.

In my study of Greater Boston laundries I find none without faults. A study of any other business would get that same result. But I do find that some laundries want to give better service. To help those that want to improve should be the desire of every one of us. The fact that some of the laundrycowners are asking their customers to think about the things that "dazzle" so that these dazzling things may be destroyed is the best evidence of their desire to improve.

So, please tell me what your laundry can do to give you better service.

Workmanship Wins

Four months ago it looked as if, perhaps, Boston could not continue to say, "The producing of hand-made cigars by members of the Cigar Makers' Union makes the cigar industry the second largest in Boston."

But today the cigar manufacturers who "stood by Boston" and continued to produce hand-made cigars here as formerly have doubled, and in many cases tripled, their business.

The smoker today realizes as never before that the making of cigars by hand is an art that brings out all the goodness of the tobacco and makes the cigar a perfect smoke.

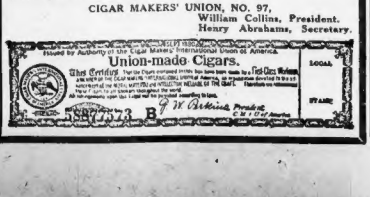

The manufacturers realize that the smoker wants to be told that their cigars are hand made, and are giving publicity to that fact.

And we, too, as in the past, continue to make it easy for the smoker to tell a hand-made cigar, for every box of cigars made by hand in Boston bears the light blue Union Label of the Cigar Makers' Union, as shown below.

Boston has made as great a reputation as Havana, Cuba, in its ability to produce hand-made cigars.

We, as cigar makers, pledge to apply all the knowledge gained by years of training to continue to produce those cigars that the smoker so thoroughly enjoys, "Hand-Made Union-Made Cigars," and we feel certain that, because of this, that Boston will continue to be known as the great hand producing cigar city.

POLICE 'DON'TS' WILL FOIL ALL THIEVES

If They Do Not Get a Chance They Won't Steal, Is Crowley's Idea

Don't carry your handbag on a strap or chain, that is, if you're a woman, and if you happen to be a man, don't show large rolls of money. If you have it, and don't carry money in a pocket accessible to a "sneak" thief.

These are only two of the "Don'ts" issued by Police Superintendent Michael H. Crowley today in a long list for the benefit of Christmas shoppers, but good for any time when crowds gather. Merchants, expressmen, automobilists and others are reminded of several things not to do in the superintendent's list of "Don'ts," which is as follows:

Don't leave your handbag or purse on the counter.

Don't carry your handbag suspended from your arm by strap or chain. Carry it securely under your arm and be careful to keep it closed.

Don't get into crowds unnecessarily. If necessary to get into crowds to do your purchasing, complete it as soon as possible and leave immediately.

Don't exhibit large amounts of money in public. It is better to bring just enough cash to do your shopping and no more.

Don't leave your auto unattended. Robes, overcoats, sweaters and so forth are often stolen in this manner.

Don't fail to notify the proper authorities if you observe persons acting in a suspicious manner.

The superintendent also issues warning to expressmen and merchants against leaving goods on the sidewalks unattended.

NEWTON FAMILIES FLEE FIRE IN NIGHTCLOTHES

Several families were forced to leave their homes in their nightclothes and remain outside in the cold early today by a smouldering fire which blazed anew in the two-story wooden apartment house at No. 183 Adams street, in the Nonantum district of Newton. The fire started early last evening in the chimney. The fire department extinguished the blaze. At 2 a. m. the chimney had again become ignited and the flames spread to the outside of the house and communicated to the second floor. The damage amounted to about $200.

LONELY WIDOW IS SEEKING A HUSBAND

Those offers of marriage received by Providence girls who are candidates for the "virtue prize" have spurred a lonesome New Hampshire widow to ask the American's aid in seeking a husband. "I am looking for a husband," she writes. "I am a widow of good standing and education, am very lonely. The man I am seeking must be refined and God-fearing, capable of supporting a good home, kind-hearted and thoughtful, over forty-eight and highly thought of."

CHEAPER FISH IS PROMISED TO BOSTON

New Independent Company to Operate at T Wharf, Which It Has Just Leased

Cheaper fish for Boston in the near future is forecast in plans of the East Coast Fisheries Company, a New York independent concern, which last week obtained a long lease of T wharf.

The company will operate in competition with big local concerns, which formerly comprised the Boston fish trust, ordered dissolved by the courts.

The lease of T wharf was secured by Frank R. Neal, long identified with Boston independent fishing interests, and now distributing manager for the East Coast Fisheries Company.

Mr. Neal announced today that T wharf would be remodeled into a first class, sanitary fish pier, and that the company's big fleet of steam trawlers would land fish there for distribution throughout New England. The company now has eleven modern steam trawlers, and plans to have five more early in 1920, and several others by 1921.

The New York concern began operations in Boston a year or two ago, but was practically frozen out last Summer by the Boston fish trust. It now controls about eighth-inches of the Reckland (Me.) water front, which it plans to develop as the supply source of a chain of cold storage houses extending from New York to the Mississippi river.

Our Little Talks At the Play

There is always far more that we want to say to you, than we can ever find room or time for. To our mind some of our happiest little thoughts are to be found in a number of theatre programs.

At the Colonial "lend us an ear" even if Victor Herbert's irresistible melodies make it difficult. And then, at the Shubert the antics of a Pinero Judge, set to music, are not conducive to a contemplative mood, but—our message is always interesting.

As for "Three Wise Fools" at the Tremont you will surely have a busy evening, smiling, crying, and hoping that everything will come out right. So by way of relaxing, thumb your program until you find the Hovey message.

The Symphony program carries a new thought every week, as does the Keith program.

KILLS WIFE, HIS DAUGHTER AND HIMSELF

Passaic, N. J., Man Also Wounds Three of His Children With an Axe

Passaic, N. J., Dec. 5.—After killing his wife and his eldest daughter and desperately wounding his three other children with an axe, Mason R. Strong, aged 50, one of the wealthiest citizens of Passaic, took his own life. He was crazed through prolonged illness.

The tragedy did not become known until one of the wounded children managed to crawl downstairs and telephone the family physician, who notified the police.

The three children have been removed to the General Hospital. It is feared one of the girls will die. Until the youngest child, Susanna, eight years old, recovered consciousness and managed to reach the telephone, the children lay unconscious in the room where their father had felled them with his axe.

When Detective Captain Turnet and a squad of his detectives reached the house, No. 237 Lexington avenue, Susanna, injured as she was, managed to tell the story.

The child said her father had been ill for more than a year and that much of the time had been under the care of a physician and two nurses. Strong and his wife, Nink, slept together. On a couch in the same room slept their only son, Nathaniel, twelve years old. In an adjoining room slept Elizabeth, aged sixteen; Nina, fourteen, and Susanna. The child said screams awoke her just as Strong beat her unconscious.

Strong was formerly connected with the Erie Railroad in an executive capacity. About two years ago he opened an office as architect in Passaic.

LAWRENCE ORDINANCE TO REGULATE TAXICABS

Lawrence, Dec. 5—As a result of agitation on the part of Lawrence jitney men who seek licenses to operate taxi-cabs, a new ordinance regulating taxicabs will be drafted to take the place of the old hackney law, which legal opinion states is still legal.

The jitney man will be charged a fee of $100 to operate a taxi-cab. The Police Commissioner gave the jitney men the right to operate their cars as taxis pending the passage of the new law.

The taxi-cab idea is the last straw in the case of the jitneyists, who will be jobless unless they can engage in the passenger traffic, according to officers in the Association.

Alcohol and Prune Juice Land Son of Bacchus in Jail

New Bedford, Dec. 5.—When John T. Murphy of No. 93 South Sixth street was brought before the District Court for drunkenness for the third time since prohibition went into effect, Judge Frank A. Milliken inquired where he was getting his liquor.

"I don't know," replied Probation Officer Edward A. DeWolf. "They say he's been drinking paint oil this time."

The defendant hastened to inform the court that when he was arrested he had been relishing on alcohol and prune juice.

FINED FOR ATTACK ON LAWRENCE DOCTOR

Lawrence, Dec. 5.—Claiming that he was attacked because he refused to make an illegal birth return, Dr. Constant Calitri, a prominent Italian physician, appeared in District Court as a witness against Peter Leone, who was found guilty of the assault and fined $10 by the Court.

Leone's mother is a midwife and a discussion took place over a recent birth record of which the Doctor was said to have spoken to others.

The physician was in a Newbury street store and was called outside by the defendant when fisticuffs began.

U.S. SAILORS GIVE LIBERALLY TO BASKET FUND

Former Marathon Winner to Give Proceeds of Bowling Match for Christmas Cheer

Send contributions to "CASHIER BOSTON AMERICAN CHRISTMAS BASKET FUND, 80 Summer street, Boston, Mass." The office of the Christmas Basket Fund is 82 Boylston street, Boston, Mass.

It was through the courtesy of Matchmaker Roy Green and the club's board of directors that the collection was made, following a brief address by City Councillor James T. Moriarty. "Jim" helped make the collection and was assisted by his fellow City Councillors, James A. Watson, Daniel J. McDonald and Edward P. McLoughlin. Others who aided were "Johnny" Wilson, a Charlestown boxer; Joe McCarthy, George W. Grimm, Charles Mooney and Attorney Thomas E. Doyle. The American thanks each of these men for his kindness.

The Basket Fund Editor wishes to call the attention of persons who are in a position to provide Christmas dinners for themselves that they need not expect any from the American fund. Applications for baskets are being carefully investigated by friends of the American including clergymen, district nurses, school teachers, church and social workers and others in a position to know whether the cases are deserving.

MANY BOGUS PLEAS.

Several cases already investigated by the Basket Fund Editor's assistants have been found not worthy and they will, accordingly, not be given a basket. In one case the man who applied is earning $40 a week. His will, of course, not receive a basket. The Basket Fund Editor feels that he should not have applied.

In another case it was learned that the woman applicant owns the house she lives in and has a substantial income. Persons in a similar position are requested to save the paper and stamps they would use in making the request as it is the intention of the American to place the baskets of food only where they are really needed.

The staff and pupils of Helmsmann House in the Tremont Theatre Building are planning an entertainment and dance for Friday evening, December 19, in aid of the fund. Henry's jazz band, whose members have played free for the fund for three years will furnish music. The persons comprising it are E. B. Henry, Perry Kelley, M. J. Carroll and B. J. E. Wilson.

MANY AID FUND.

The staff who have given their services free are Miss Florence Smith, Frank Stack, Mrs. Axman, Miss Hazel McGaffey and Mr. Peterson. Four tiny misses of three years will be seen in some cunning dances which they are making special preparations for. They are Virginia Winchilow, Doris Clark, Ethel Taylor and Margaret Fitzpatrick.

Some of the older children of the school who will appear in special numbers are Florence Clark, Christina Hunter, Alice Buchart, Mary Peterson and Gladys Watson. All these children are clever entertainers and a big following of friends are expected to be present at the affair to witness their dancing. General dancing will follow the entertainment.

Twenty per cent. of the proceeds of a dance to be conducted tomorrow evening in the Garden Dansant, formerly the Allston Dansant, Junction of Brighton and Harvard avenues, Allston, will be presented to the fund by Hugh Payne, proprietor of the hall. A similar per centage of the receipts of next Tuesday's dance will be donated to the fund by Mr. Payne. Misses Doris Steward and Doris Harney of Brighton will assist on both evenings. Hicks' orchestra will play.

Frank Bruno, former Marathon runner, hopes to raise $25 for the fund tonight at the weekly roll-off for cash prizes at his bowling alley in Quincy. His place contains eleven alleys on the floor, conceded to be the largest number on one floor in New England. In addition to giving the net profits from tonight's roll-off Mr. Bruno says he is going to make a personal donation.

GIRLS OFFER SERVICE.

Several more girls and women have offered their services to sell tags in Boston, Cambridge, Malden and Quincy on the American's double tag days next week. The dates are Friday and Saturday, December 12 and 13, and it is confidently expected that a large sum will be added to the basket fund as the result of the tag sale. Some of the prettiest girls in Greater Boston are already numbered among those who have offered their services.

Some large-hearted "gobs" sent in $18.85 collected among themselves on board the Destroyer McCawley, which shows that despite their comparative isolation from the needy of Boston, the sailor boys are not ignorant of conditions among the poor. The letter accompanying the money follows:

"Dear Sir: The engineers' force of the U. S. Torpedo Boat Destroyer McCawley desires to inject a little cheer into somebody's home on Christmas. And our best medium for doing so is your fund, so we trust that you will be kind enough to add our contribution of $18.85 to it. We wish you all a very merry Christmas and a happy New Year now as at the happy Yuletide we will probably be on the high seas. The Engineer force, U. S. S. McCawley, Per

"C. M. RICHARDS."

From the employes of the Revere Post Office comes this letter:

"Dear Sir: Enclosed please find money order for $3.10; the same being the contribution of the employes of the Revere Post Office. With best wishes for the success of your very worthy endeavor, we remain, sincerely yours."

"We have pleasure in handing you herewith our check for $25 to be used toward your fund," wrote A. C. Lombard's Sons.

Boy Scouts Charles McCormack and Nathan Buchman, of Troop 12, brought in $1.04 to the editor's office as a contribution to the fund. Master McCormack said the money was raised at the meeting of his branch last Tuesday night when a motion was made that this week's dues of the members be donated to the American Christmas Basket Fund.

E. L. J. of Medford writes:

"Dear Sir: Enclosed is one dollar which I trust will do just a little bit of good for some poor child. Wish it were many, many more dollars."

P. C. Hadley, Jr., of New Bedford sent this note:

"Dear Sirs: Enclosed please find check for $5. I am glad to contribute to such a worthy cause."

$25,000 LOSS IN MANSFIELD HOTEL FIRE

Mansfield, Dec. 5.—Fire early today in the Mansfield Tavern, formerly known as Lowney's Tavern, caused a damage estimated at $25,000 and drove several employes to the street.

The fire did considerable damage to the top floor, burned off the roof and ruined many costly draperies and tapestries.

Chief King of the Mansfield Fire Department became alarmed and summoned help from Foxboro. The entire horse-drawn department of Foxboro made the run in the record-breaking time of twelve minutes.

The fire started around the chimney and quickly communicated to the fourth floor, where the employes' quarters are located, and from thence ate its way to the roof, which was completely burned. While there were a number of guests in the house at the time, none was reported as being missing nor injured, although some of their effects may be ruined.

Some of the employes who lodged in the upper part of the building were aroused and fled to the street in their night clothing. The blaze was discovered by a passerby on his way to work.

The tavern, which is one of the famous automobile and transient places between Boston and Providence, was erected in 1907 by Walter M. Lowney, the chocolate and candy manufacturer of Boston. It is considered one of the model inns of its kind in New England. It is owned by several Mansfield men with Daniel C. Richardson, president, and Arthur Chester as manager. It was insured and will be rebuilt at once.

PRINCE CALLED CAMP MAID TO REID BALL

Compelled New York Hostess to Invite Girl She Never Met

Montreal, Que., Dec. 5.—How a Montreal girl came near spoiling the evening for Mrs. Whitelaw Reid when she gave her great ball for the Prince of Wales on his recent visit to New York has just become known.

The heroine is Miss Inez Wilson, daughter of the late Dr. Robert Henry Wilson, a prominent Montreal physician. Mrs. Wilson and her daughter are now living in New York City. Miss Wilson is a blonde, and the Prince has shown a decided preference for blondes.

In the war period Miss Inez decided she wanted to do something. So, after much persuasion, Mrs. Wilson consented to her daughter joining an American Red Cross entertaining company.

MET HER AT A DANCE.

The next chapter is set in Coblenz in the early Spring of this year. The Prince of Wales was there to inspect the American troops. A dinner was given for him by the American general, followed by a dance, to which Miss Inez Wilson was invited.

She and the Prince met and "took" to each other. Miss Inez loves dancing and she speedily discovered the Prince does, too.

But he confessed to her that he somehow could not "get hold of that jazz."

After that evening they met several times before the Prince left Coblenz. He told her he would be sure to see her when he visited "the other side."

Miss Inez returned home soon. Then came the Prince's visit, and it was at the reception given in New York by Redmon Wainwaker that the Prince obtained the next glimpse of his Canadian girl friend. There was not much opportunity for a long chat, but his eyes beamed as he talked of Coblenz and the "jazz," which he admitted he had at last conquered. He promised to see her again before he left for home.

NOT INVITED TO BALL.

Mrs. Reid's ball was not at all like the reception. Miss Inez was not invited to the ball.

But judge of Mrs. Reid's concern when, soon after the Prince's arrival, he asked if Miss Inez was present and if not could she be invited? Mrs. Reid had never heard of Inez Wilson. It was the same with the others present.

But finally Miss Wilson's address was discovered. The telephone brought back word to Mrs. Reid that Miss Wilson was dining with friends and going to a theatre after. Mrs. Reid said:

"She must be found and told the Prince of Wales commands her presence at the ball."

Messengers scurried about and finally found Miss Inez and a friend at the Rivoli Theatre. She got the message.

"The Prince of Wales commands your presence at the ball. You must come at once."

BRITISH SCHOONER IN DISTRESS OFF BOSTON

The British schooner St. Clair Theriault is in distress several hundred miles eastward of Boston, according to a wireless dispatch received at the navy yard from the American steamer Prusa.

The message says that two men of the crew are suffering with broken legs, having apparently been injured during rough weather, and two others are sick with fever. The Prusa's commander gave the crew as much of his stock of supplies as he could spare when he found that their supply of provisions were nearly gone. The schooner is bound from the Canary Islands to Yarmouth, N. S., and has been at sea for nearly three months.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

SIX FAMILIES DRIVEN OUT BY CHELSEA FIRE

Considerable excitement was caused in the "Hollow" section of Chelsea early today by the sounding of two-alarms for a fire in the three-story wooden tenement house at No 2 Gilman place, six families being driven to the street in scanty clothing.

The first floor of the house was occupied by John Suzawosch and the second floor by Mrs Dora Gordon and family. The third floor is vacant. The fire started from some undetermined cause in the cellar of the house, which is owned by Jacob Yunes.

"Frivolities" Dancer Praised for Grace and Charm

Miss Irene Delroy.

The stage has been so overrun with nature dancers, classic dancers, art nouveau dancers and other persons who think scampering about unclad is dancing that the traditional and graceful dancer of the past has been crowded out.

Both Pavlowa and Genee were artificial dancers as contrasted with natural dancers like Isadora Duncan and [illegible] Irene Delroy the "Frivolities of 1919" appears to have found a dancer trained in all the traditions of the ballet, a girl who can stand on her toes and assume the graceful postures of a [illegible] and who possesses youth and beauty into the bargain.

Miss Delroy will be seen with Anderson's "Frivolities of 1919" when they open at the Boston Opera House Saturday night.

MANY ASPIRE TO MISS YOUNG'S MOVIE CROWN

Photographer White Will Make Picture Free for Qualified Contestants

That so many Boston girls yearned to be movie stars nobody would believe unless he were elected photoplay contest editor of the American and was besieged by beautiful young women who submitted photos and other material to prove their qualifications for the Clara Kimball Young contest.

MUST BE EMOTIONAL.

The girl who succeeds Miss Young has her work cut out for her. That film star is an emotional and character actress of great skill. She is one of the beauties of the screen but she does not hesitate to make herself ugly in the interests of art.

In "Eyes of Youth," the big film which will appear at the Waldorf Theatre next week, Miss Young plays four roles in one and essays every possible emotional situation.

So beauty is not enough to win the prize in this contest. Miss Young will personally weed out the candidates who are sent to California and will test them in every way.

These are her specifications:

Age, over seventeen, and under twenty.
Eyes, blue.
Hair, brown or black.
Weight, 118 to 125.
Education, high school.
Experience, none wanted.
Parental consent in writing.
Temperament, emotional.

WILL FURNISH PICTURE.

Gus White, the photographer, Tremont and Avery streets, has volunteered to make one photo free for aspirants who wish to enter the contest, but only when they present a letter from the manager of the Waldorf Theatre.

The American will assist the young candidates for Miss Young's laurels and will publish photographs of the most attractive contestants. Send photos with letters not more than 100 words in length to the photoplay editor, Boston American.

THIBAUD AND BAUER IN BEETHOVEN RECITAL

By FRED S. McISAAC.

Thibaud, the French violinist, and Harold Bauer, the pianist, gave the first of three Beethoven recitals in Jordan Hall last night before a capacity audience.

These concerts, intended to revive interest in the sonata literature of Beethoven, began by performances of the sonatas in D major, G major and C minor.

The brilliancy and loveliness of these works is admitted without question, and the artistry of the two really great players cannot be denied, but programs devoted entirely to Beethoven may become as monotonous as symphony concerts at which nothing but Beethoven symphonies are performed, to all but persons whose musical interest is aided by considerable musical lore.

Nevertheless, these concerts offer opportunity to become familiar with fine but less well known compositions of the greatest of all composers and they deserve the patronage they are apparently going to get.

LIGHTED CANDLE FIRES BABE SOAKED IN OIL

Lawrence, Dec. 5.—Catherine Porcelli, aged four, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Porcelli of No. 1..1 Maple street, is on the danger list at the Lawrence General Hospital, the result of burns received when a lighted candle fell on her after her mother had rubbed her chest with oil and bandaged her with cotton. She was burned from head to foot.

The child was sick with bronchitis and her mother was treating her when a woman neighbor held the lighted candle. The candle slipped and fell into the oil soaked cotton bandages. Joseph Porcelli, the girl's father, received severe burns about the hands and arms, attempting to extinguish the flames.

CHAPLAIN OF LEGION WANTS ALIENS DEPORTED

Burlington, Vt., Dec. 5.—Chaplain Keller of the American Legion, speaking here, flayed the War Department for its treatment of conscientious objectors, declaring that "the men the government coddled, gave honorable discharges to and full pay with bonus after war now stand back in the coal mine districts and say we can have coal when they get ready to give it to us." He appeared at the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce and opposed any scheme of Americanization for foreigners. "Deport them," he said, "and let them learn what freedom is before they can come back here."

Strong, Forceful Men With Plenty of Iron In Their Blood—

These Are the Ones With the Power and Energy to Win

"Many a capable man or woman fails just short of winning because they don't back up their mentality with the physical strength and energy which come from having plenty of iron in the blood," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. To help make strong, keen red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron. It often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time." Nuxated Iron is now being used by over three million people annually and it has been used and endorsed by such men as Ignace Jan Paderewski, Premier of Poland and Master Pianist; former United States Senator and Vice-Presidential Nominee Charles A. Towne; former Health Commissioner Wm. R. Kerr of Chicago, also United States Judge G. W. Atkinson of the Court of Claims of Washington and others.

MANUFACTURERS' NOTE: Nuxated Iron which is prescribed above, is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. TUFTS FACULTY DROPS FOUR FOOTBALL MEN

Four varsity football men have been dropped from Tufts scholastic rolls by a vote of the probation committee.

Tom McNamara, Jack Connell, Ed Se[illegible]w and Frankie Carey will make a big gap in the Medford collegians' lineup next year.

The action is said to be a necessary step in a plan to rid the Hill institution of all students, regardless of all students, regardless of athletic ability, who do not measure up to the standard.

The faculty committee on promotions has adopted a system of warning students whose standing is low, particularly athletes and students engaged in public activities. This method is usually efficient, but in the present case it failed to meet with response from the students concerned so dismissal followed.

FENWAY A. A. TO TOLERATE NO MORE "MOORE" DECISIONS

By JACK CONWAY.

Referee Jerry Moore has been given the gate by the Fenway A. A. He will not [illegible] bouts for this club as long as Roy Green is matchmaker.

"There will be a referee other than Moore in the ring at the next show at the Fenway [illegible] Green today. "The decision in the Doyle-Kloby bout [illegible] gate. Doyle was out front most of the time and was [illegible] the award.

"A draw would [illegible] given reason [illegible] for an [illegible] up a [illegible] effective punches [illegible] master [illegible] battle [illegible] an injustice when [illegible]

Most [illegible] did not know that [illegible] before the bout [illegible] as though [illegible] necessary to postpone [illegible] however, felt better Tuesday and went in and gave Kloby a great battle.

[illegible] has been said that Jack Sheehy tipped Moore to give the decision to Kloby. There are certain grounds for this charge, but at any rate it was an award which gave the [illegible] game a black eye.

NOT KLOBY'S MENTOR.

"I wish to deny the report that I am in any way interested in Kloby. I have never [illegible] boxer and don't intend to [illegible] his own manager. He even [illegible] far as to insist that the [illegible] tickets be counted twice [illegible]

The "firing" [illegible] the Fenway Club was [illegible] the controversy following [illegible] decision at the Mechanics [illegible] show. It is almost impossible [illegible] a single person who [illegible] Moore's verdict. It was [illegible] things which happen [illegible] often in the boxing game.

Moore's decision [illegible] him out in the cold as [illegible] engagements with [illegible] It may be that Moore [illegible] his last bout in Boston.

ENDED CLOUGHERTY'S CAREER.

The boxing public of this city will not tolerate decisions such as the one given by Moore. It recalled Martin Clougherty's decision, which gave Buck Crouse the honors over Leo Houck at the [illegible] years ago. That decision ended Clougherty's career as a referee in Boston.

The five boxing clubs now operating in Boston [illegible] take steps to prevent a recurrence of what happened at the Fenway Club's show. The promoters should realize that the referee is one of the most important —if not the most important—person connected with a club.

Roy Green's show was a sparkling affair up to the time Moore gave Kloby the decision. There were 2,010 fans on hand, which was the largest crowd to ever witness a bout in Boston. Each of the bouts furnished plenty of action, and everybody was satisfied.

It was particularly gratifying to many of the fans to watch Doyle's wonderful boxing. Kloby was a 10 to 6 betting favorite before the tussle. Doyle, the short ender, was picked by many of the expert followers of the game and the writer to win, but the majority of the crowd believed Kloby would triumph. It was only natural the spectators should be more enthusiastic over Doyle as he upset their dope.

WORK WENT TO NAUGHT.

It was a stirring battle, but everything went to naught when Moore pulled his bloomer. It would be about the same if an umpire were to call one of Babe Ruth's drives over the centre field fence a foul ball.

[illegible]

Roy Green stated today that he was perfectly willing to [illegible] Conley or any other Boston man act as the third man in the ring. Moore however was the club's regular official. And he got the assignment.

There is no cause for [illegible] the present evils in the boxing game. A poor official should not be tolerated.

No sport can flourish if rank decisions are tolerated. One of the reasons why the American League has prospered is because it has fearless, competent umpires, who give decisions as they see them.

Other leagues have not been as fortunate in the selection of umpires and they have not done so well financially. Boxing fans are [illegible] like those who frequent baseball [illegible] they want justice done.

SOUGHT NEW OFFICIALS.

In 1915 the Harvard football authorities came in for a great deal of criticism, as a result of the rank work of officials in the contest between the Crimson eleven and Penn State. Penn State was deprived of a touchdown by penalties inflicted by officials who claimed there was holding. The man charged with holding was the one who was carrying the ball.

Harvard has since exercised more care in the selection of officials. This has created new interest in football.

Let the Boston boxing clubs [illegible] referees found incompetent. They should also give tryouts in preliminary bouts to men versed in boxing who desire to become referees. Most of the candidates will naturally be found incompetent, but a poor decision in a preliminary match will not do anybody a great injury.

Such a method would result in the development of some new officials who could be used in feature contests. Unless the boxing promoters act they themselves will be the ones to suffer most.

Ketonen Beats Oishi in Straight Falls at Grand

Waino Ketonen, the Finn, defeated [illegible] Oishi, the Jap, two straight falls in the feature wrestling [illegible] at the Grand Opera House [illegible] Ketonen won the first fall in [illegible] 40 seconds [illegible] in 23 minutes [illegible] In the semi-final [illegible] Cyclone Peterson [illegible] minutes.

GOULD LEADS KINSELLA FIVE SETS TO THREE

Philadelphia, Dec. 5.—Walter Kinsella, professional court tennis champion of the United States, defeated [illegible] Gould, amateur champion [illegible] of four on the second day of their three days' match for [illegible] Club [illegible] This [illegible] the lead five sets to three. The first player winning seven sets is the victor.

RICKARD IS NOT READY TO PUT ON BIG BOUT

New York, Dec. 5.—Tex Rickard declined to commit himself about promoting a meeting between Georges Carpentier, conqueror of Beckett, and Jack Dempsey, the world's heavyweight champion, but intimated that the outlay necessary to bring about the battle was hardly warranted by the present conditions of the boxing game either here or abroad.

Rickard, however, said that the Frenchman [illegible] was the only logical opponent for Dempsey now in sight.

Bogash Kayos McAndrews

Clinton, Dec. 5.—Eddie McAndrews of Philadelphia was knocked out in the first round by Louis Bogash of Bridgeport at the Wachusett A. C. meeting.

CENTRE SOUGHT AS OPPONENT BY B. C.

Centre College will have a place on Boston College's 1920 football schedule, if Graduate Manager of Athletics Reynolds can complete arrangements now pending with the Kentuckians. It is known that Centre College would like to make a trip to New England, and Reynolds feels that the record compiled by his players this season entitles them to a game with the undefeated gathering from the Blue Grass region, which rolled up a total of more than 400 points against its opponents.

CARPENTIER KAYOS BECKETT IN 50 SECONDS OF FIGHTING

The blow that finished Beckett was a right uppercut to the chin.

"I have the same blow for Jack Dempsey," the Frenchman said smilingly as he climbed out of the ring.

The crowd [illegible] and [illegible] had [illegible] referee [illegible] Beckett [illegible] landed [illegible] Beckett [illegible] Carpentier [illegible] with [illegible]

The spectators [illegible] stunned. The [illegible] had been scheduled to go twenty rounds. Then they broke [illegible] and Carpentier received the [illegible]. As he left the [illegible] rushed [illegible] high on the [illegible] rivals and [illegible]

FIVE THOUSAND PRESENT.

[illegible] persons [illegible] crowded into the Stadium to see the [illegible]. A distinguished crowd was [illegible] the Prince of Wales occupying a box at the ringside. Many women were present.

Thousands of disappointed enthusiasts waited outside, unable to [illegible] hoping in some way to catch a glimpse of the fray. [illegible] were unobtainable at any [illegible] and even offers of fifty pounds [illegible] ticket holders to part [illegible]

Beckett entered the contest a slight favorite, odds of 5 to 4 and 10 to 9 ruling at the ringside. Supporters of Carpentier quickly covered all Beckett money they could find.

The British champion was the first to enter the ring and the crowd gave him a tremendous ovation. He looked well set [illegible] for the fight. A few minutes later he was followed by [illegible] and he, too, was given a great welcome. The Frenchman [illegible]

CARPENTIER SMILING.

"The men left their corners, shook hands and faced each other. Carpentier wore a broad smile, the English champion was stolid and ready. Carpentier batted in quickly and landed a left on Beckett's face. The [illegible] sparred. Beckett sending a [illegible] blow.

Carpentier stepped forward to help carry the fallen Englishman to his corner. Beckett was unconscious and had to be carried out of the ring by his seconds.

Dempsey Is Pleased by Victory of Carpentier

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 5.—"I'm glad Carpentier won. I wanted the Frenchman to win all along. But for what I had heard about Beckett's ability as a fighter, I was a little bit leary of the result."

This was Jack Dempsey's comment when Carpentier's victory was flashed to him.

"The result was a surprise," the world's heavyweight champion said. "I did not figure Carpentier [illegible] and [illegible] everyone [illegible] with. The Frenchman must be there with the goods."

Asked if he expected a challenge from Carpentier, Dempsey replied: "Sure. It was understood the winner of the fight was [illegible] challenge me."

"What will you do?"

"It's a little too soon to answer that."

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 10c and 25c.

"The Miracle of Love"

By Cosmo Hamilton

"AH, my dear Lady Emily, this is [illegible] pleasure."

"[illegible] Vicar, it is. I shall be thundering glad when my nephew has been safely tied up by you. Nothing will give me greater pleasure and relief, I can tell you."

"I can well understand that."

"Of course you can. Now I want you to be good enough to get your curate to scratch his golf tomorrow [illegible] only be one morning [illegible] to bring round to me before [illegible]—he shall stay and bite something if he is amiable—a list of suitable hymns. I'll go through them and tick them off. While he's with me I'll take him around and show him the flowers with which you will decorate the church. Can that be achieved?"

The vicar smiled. The underlying sarcasm of his old friend appealed to him. His various curates, coming from Oxford and Cambridge, devoted more time and energy to games than work.

"I will see to it," he replied. "And when am I to have the pleasure of marrying Lord Clive?"

Lady Emily pursed up her lips. Into her mind's eye came the tall, well set-up figure of her blessed boy and his eyes that had been burning. "I wish I knew," she said. "Well, what's the news? Has the government given India to the Russians yet, or made a handsome present of our navy to Emperor William?"

Vicar's Eyes Twinkled

The vicar's eyes twinkled, but having acquired wisdom, he held aloof from politics.

[illegible] ing house, this, and, dear me, how good your chrysanthemums are this Autumn. But the leaves are falling, Vicar. We don't grow younger, do we, you and I. When George has been married two or three years, and there's a perambulator on the terrace, I shall waddle round one morning and apply for the post of housekeeper. Oh, by the way, no bridge till after the wedding. No rest for the wicked till that great boy and his little girl are off for the honeymoon and the tents are folded up and the rice swept away. Au revoir, old friend."

"Au revoir, dear lady."

But when the little gray woman came to the church, with its battered and weather-soiled Norman tower, she dismounted, tied up the hack to the high gate and walked briskly in.

It was empty, but for the spirits of all the people who had worshipped before its simple altar and silent but for the merry chirping of the sparrows in the trees above the graves. She went on tiptoe to the family pew, opened its black oak door quietly, knelt on one of the dull red cushions, and asked God, in less colloquial language than it was her habit to use elsewhere, to watch over "my dear, dear boy in this crisis of his life."

Returned Before Wedding

George and Clive returned the day before the wedding. The results of Lady Emily's "lock, stock, barrel and bung," stared them in the face as soon as they drove through the gates of the park. Everything was ready for the great day, and flags were flying from the poles of the three huge marquees. The merry-go-rounds, cocoanut-shies, boat-swings, Aunt Sallies and fowls were all up. So was the pole on which the village boys were to sit straddle and pommel each other with pillows until they rolled off among the shouting partisans.

A bevy of carpenters were putting the finishing touches to the bandstand, and in a small enclosure of hurdles a fat and wondering pig was standing in lonely boredom, waiting to be won by the man or woman who made the best score at bowls.

Lady Emily's small, neat figure dressed in riding kit, could be seen moving quickly from place to place as she cast a final examining eye on everything. She was [illegible] followed by the typist [illegible] in hand, and the old dachshund who showed canine curiosity in the usual way.

Autumn had spread her reluctant, destroying hand upon the oaks and beeches. Their browns and reds had already begun to make patterns at their roots. Nearly all the color had gone out of the great flower beds at the foot of the terrace. Swallows had gone.

The Wicked Marquis

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

CHAPTER XXVII.

THE Marquis, with several account books and Mr. Merridrew, who had ridden over from his office on a motor bicycle, had settled down to a laborious evening. The former, for no particular reason, was enjoying a slight relapse into his customary optimism.

"I am not without expectation," the Marquis commenced by explaining to his agent, "that at the end of the next two months I may find myself in possession of a large sum of money. Under those circumstances, it will not be a purposeless proceeding to work out what is really required in the way of repairs on the various farms. It will be a great pleasure for me to meet my tenants in any way possible. On the whole, I consider that they have been very reasonable and loyal."

Mr. Merridrew agreed with his lordship, agreed with him fervently.

"Some of them," he confessed, "have been very troublesome. A few of them have been driven to make some slight repairs themselves, but on the whole, your lordship, it would be a great relief of [illegible] as regards positive dilapidations."

The Marquis dipped his pen in the ink and settled down to his task. At [illegible], Gossett knocked at the door, opened it and advanced towards his master with a card upon a salver.

"The gentleman is staying at Fakenham, I believe, sir, and has motored over."

The Marquis lifted the card. "Mr. James Borden" at first conveyed nothing to him. Then he felt a sudden stab of memory.

"[illegible] me?" he inquired.

"He begs to be allowed a short [illegible]," Gossett [illegible]

"You can show him into the library," was the brief direction. "Mr. Merridrew," he added, turning to the agent, "you can proceed with the abstract without me. I shall return in time to go through the totals and learn the family records of the various tenants—I refer, of course, to those with which I am not acquainted."

Mr. Merridrew was quite sure that he could manage alone and settled down to his task. The Marquis presently left him and crossed [illegible] great hall, one of the wonders of Mandeleys, the walls of which were still hung with faded reproductions, in ornate tapestry, of mediaeval incidents. From somewhere amongst the shadows came Gossett, who gravely took up his stand outside the library. As though with some curious prescience of the fact that this was an unwelcome visitor, his bow, as he threw open the door, was lower even than usual.

"Shall I light the lamp, your lordship?" he asked.

The Marquis glanced towards the oriel windows, through which the light came scantily and at the figure of James Borden, advancing now from somewhere in the dim recesses of the room — an apartment which remained marvellously little altered since the days when it had contained the [illegible] collected books of a Franciscan order of monks.

"Perhaps it would be as well, Gossett," his master assented. "You wish to see me?" he added, turning towards his visitor.

James Borden had come post-haste from London, acting upon an impulse which had swept him off his feet. All the way down he had been the prey to turbulent thoughts. A hundred different ways of conducting this interview had presented themselves before him with such facility that he had come to look upon it as one of the easiest things on earth. Yet now the moment had arrived he was [illegible] of a unexpected embarrassment. The strange tranquility of the house and this stately apartment, the personality of the Marquis himself—serene, slightly curious, yet with that indefinable air of good-breeding which magnifies the obligations of a host—had a paralyzing effect upon him. He was tongue-tied, uncertain of himself. All the many openings which had come to him so readily faded away.

"My name is Borden," he announced. "I have come here, hoping for a short conversation with you."

The Marquis made no immediate reply. He watched the lighting of a huge lamp which Gossett silently placed in the middle of an ebony black writing table, to the side of which he had already drawn up two high-backed chairs.

"Is there anything else your lordship desires?" the man asked.

"Not at present, Gossett. I will ring."

"I shall be very glad to hear of your business with me, Mr. Borden," he said courteously.

His visitor had lost none of his embarrassment. The Marquis, in his old fashioned dinner clothes, his black stock, the fob which hung from his waistcoat, his finely chiseled features and that mysterious air of being entirely in touch with his surroundings, had him at a disadvantage from the first. Borden was wearing the somewhat shabby blue serge suit in which he had traveled all day, and which he had neglected to brush. He had been too much in earnest about his mission to do more than make the most hasty toilet at the hotel.

Relieved Husband and Child, Wife and Mother States.

Mrs. A. Jennings, 1731 Armitage avenue, Chicago, Ill., Writes:

"I heard of Menthol-Laxene about two years ago, and since then would not be without it. My husband had been coughing for about four years, summer and winter, and now he is free of it, and for my child I think there is nothing better in the world for a cold, for it helps at once!"

The best cough, cold, and catarrh medicine ever found is this essence Menthol-Laxene [illegible] Advertisement.

Dandruff Surely Destroys the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. [illegible] Advertisement.

As a Woman Thinketh

By HELEN ROWLAND

Why Men Don't Understand a Woman.

Copyright, 1919, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

WHY can a man never understand a woman
When it's SO easy!
For instance—

She always wants to be the last woman in a man's life—and yet, she wants him to make love to her exactly as though she were the first.

She wants him to regard her love as a priceless treasure—and yet to be eager to pay her bills and ready to come across with the alimony!

She wants him to kiss her with all the artistic tenderness of a practiced Lothario—and with all the enthusiasm of an amateur. She wants him to coddle her and treat her like a spoiled baby—and at the same time to permit her to "mother" him, chaperone him, and act as his food censor.

She wants him to pat her on the head—and at the same time to kneel down and kiss the hem of her.

She wants to tell him everything the minute it happens—and at the same time she yearns to be regarded as a deep, dark, fascinating mystery.

She wants to be able to make a hero of him with one hand—and a fool of him with the other.

She wants to be the "angel," who appeals to his higher nature and at the same time to murder all the women who appeal to the other nine-tenths of him.

She wants him to tell her nothing but the honest truth—and at the same time to swear that she is the only woman he ever enjoyed kissing.

She wants him to trust her absolutely—and at the same time always to be a little jealous—never to be quite SURE of her.

She wants him to caress her with one hand—and to win battles, write checks and make himself a "power" in the world with the other.

She wants him to be frugal, economical and provident—and at the same time to tip the hallboys and waiters with princely prodigality.

She wants him to be the sun, moon and stars of her existence—and at the same time to serve as an umbrella on a rainy day.

She wants him to "understand" her—and at the same time to think her the only absolutely perfect woman in the world!

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

COOKS were always coming, going, in the home of Mrs. Gump, and this stream of servants flowing kept the household on the jump. They had cooks from heathen nations, they had cooks from far Peru; they ate every sort of rations, combinations weird and new. What they dined on was a puzzle, but they did not dare be rude; so they'd always chew and guzzle anything the cook called food. Though their beefsteak was quite painful and their coffee was a crime, every cook was so disdainful that they called these tidbits prime. And the housemaid was another who had grabbed the Gumpses' goat, while the butler and his brother also had 'em by the throat. Though as haughty as a duchess Mrs. Gump was wont to be, she was humble in the clutches of this helpful company. It became a sad obsession as in many homes we know; housework seems a great profession to keep people on the go. Yes, they tried an Irish beauty, and they tried a Swedish maid, and they tried a Cuban cutie, but not any of them stayed. Next they pressed into their service what was once a Zulu chief, but his war cries made 'em nervous, so his reign was rather brief. Finally, in reckless daring, Mrs. Gump took off her rings, shed the anklets she was wearing, stomachers and all such things. To the kitchen she then hastened with the cookstove to converse, and she spoke in manner chastened: "Well, I can't do any worse." And it seemed her words were truthful, though her cooking made them ill, all the Gumps were strong and youthful, and it was not known to kill. In a manner far from subtle they put skids to all their force. Mr. Gump learned how to buttle, though his work was pretty coarse. So their problem now is banished, they have lots of work to do, but, with cooks and cares all vanished, they can sing the whole day through.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is aching; if what you eat sours and forms acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before eating more food.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless.

Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast.—Advertisement.

DANDRUFF SOON GETS YOUR HAIR

Let "Danderine" check nasty scurf and stop hair falling out

To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair usually stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. Soon every hair on your scalp shows new life, vigor, brightness, thickness and more color.—Advertisement.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Look years younger! Use Grandmother's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

Prominent reducing specialists say that fat that comes and stays where it is not needed is a burden — hindrance to activity — a curb upon pleasure — that all of that is pretty and graceful and sweet to womankind. Why don't you take off the fat where it shows? You can do so easily, safely and without the slightest fear of harm or bad after-effects by just taking after each meal and at bedtime a pleasant little Marmola Prescription Tablet. PRICES MIXED ON BOSTON EXCHANGE

Curb Market Strong and Active; Verde Mines a Feature

Irregularity marked price changes on the Boston Exchange at the opening, but the majority of active issues showed gains at the start. There was no pronounced alteration during the morning, but the recessional in New York during the first hour had its reflection here. At the end of the morning there were more stocks down than up in the local market.

Among those to show the largest forenoon gains were Punta Alegre, United Drug common, International Cotton Mills, Swift & Co., Mullins Body, Eastern Steamship preferred, Waltham Watch and American Sugar, their advances ranging from one to six points for the last named stock. The announcement that the government would abandon its attempt at sugar control was a factor in its recent strength of sugars.

Fractional gains were made by Boston Elevated, Ventura, Swift International, Libby and Eastern Steamship common.

Among forenoon declines were Mohawk, Mexican Investment, Copper Range, National Leather, Carson Hill, Elder, North Butte, Seneca, Waldorf, Gray & Davis and Bigheart. They receded from fractions to more than a point. Early trading in coppers was limited and auto accessory shares were less active than usual. Eastern Manufacturing and Ventura were in demand.

Issues to sell ex-dividend were General Electric, Dominion Steel, Mackay common and preferred, Walworth, Calumet & Arizona, Calumet & Hecla and Wolverine.

CURB MARKET WAS ACTIVE.

Trading was active on the Boston Curb during the morning and the market was strong. Verde Mines was a first hour feature. It opened at 30 cents and soon sold at 60 cents. By 11 o'clock it was back to 52, but then showing 26 cents gain. Boston & Montana was also extensively traded in and advanced 5 cents. Imperial was prominent and advanced a trifle. Ohio Body continued strong, advancing 1½ points. Mutual Divide opened unchanged. Denbigh Mining receded 10 cents at the start.

Unprecedented developments in the above-named oil issues have evidently escaped the attention of the average investor. We have made a careful investigation of their status, which has been incorporated into a careful digest worthy of any investor's closest attention.

Events are also shaping in the affairs of Nipissing—probably one of the greatest silver-producing properties in the world today—which is also carefully discussed in our summary.

Analyses of the above-named trio will be mailed free upon request.

RISE OF RAILS IS TRADING FEATURE

Southern Pacific Opens the Session With a Sensational Advance

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

Stocks were weak in New York at noon, there having been a steady decline after the early upward movement. But rails held most of their gains, Southern Pacific being up about ten points at the end of the morning. Its sensational advance at the start and the rise of rails in general was the trading feature. The market was quite active, first hour transactions totalling more than 360,000 shares. Call money opened at 6 per cent. In the foreign exchange market sterling weakened again, the opening demand rate being $3.89½.

Weakest stocks at noon were Crucible, General Motors, Keystone Tire, Mexican Petroleum, Texas Company, Transcontinental Oil and Industrial Alcohol. They were off from two to more than six points. General Motors had receded the most.

A New York dispatch says: "The opening of Southern Pacific was one of the wildest and widest that has been noted on the stock exchange for years."

MARKET OPENED HIGHER.

Gains were almost universal when the exchange opened, but they were not large in most cases, and were the result of covering of shorts and some buying by the public. The latter is beginning to come back into the market. Lower prices for stocks and 6 per cent. money are the inducements. Observers say the speculative spirit animating people since the armistice is still rampant. Evidence accumulates that liquidation was completed last week, and the present technical condition of the market is favorable for an advance. Sentiment was rather bullish this morning. It is stated that brokerage loans have been decreased about $200,000,000 within a short time. Favorable bank statements are expected tomorrow. Large taxpayers were interested in the statement from Washington that the Treasury Department has no knowledge of any move to have Congress legislate against the sale of Liberty bonds to establish losses for tax reduction purposes. It was also announced that Secretary Glass is not intending any step at present to bolster up the market price of government bonds. The borrowing demand for stocks was large and urgent after the market closed yesterday.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC STRONG.

The announcement by Attorney-General Palmer that the government would not appeal the decree recently entered in favor of the Southern Pacific in a California oil land case was made after the exchange closed yesterday and did not affect the market until the opening today, when there was excited bidding for the stock of that and other roads. Twenty thousand shares of Southern Pacific were dealt in at from 104 to 108, an advance of almost thirteen points at the latter figure. This issue was the feature of early trading. It carried other rails to a higher level, Texas & Pacific, Union Pacific, Reading and Northern Pacific advancing a point or more within a few minutes. Sugars also had a strong start, American Sugar, Cuba Cane, Punta Alegre and Beet Sugar all advancing from fractions to more than two points. Steels had a strong opening, but soon receded, which was true of oils, motors and the list in general. Southern Pacific had lost parts of its gain and the market was irregular at the end of an hour.

Gold Shipments

During the first twenty days of November this country exported gold to the amount of $36,630,000, while imports totalled $1,664,000. The latest gold shipment, reported yesterday, is $136,000 in bars obtained at the New York assay office for Paris.

Copper Mining Outputs

November copper production by Miami was 3,718,965 pounds while the Phelps Dodge Corporation's output was 8,784,000 pounds.

MELTING SILVER COIN TO GET HIGH PRICE

Private Interests Reported to be Recasting Old-Time "Cartwheels"

It is reported from Philadelphia that private interests have been melting silver dollars into bullion, but that the Government will do nothing in regard to this as long as the price of the white metal remains below the melting point of the subsidiary silver coinage. A Washington dispatch says Secretary of the Treasury Glass contemplates no step to reduce the cost of silver. When the price of silver crosses $1.3824 per ounce the bullion value of full weight, subsidiary silver coins exceed their face value.

During November United States Mints coined 12,252,000 pieces of silver with a value totalling $1,629,000.

New Goff Securities

Stockholders of the D. Goff & Sons, Inc., of Pawtucket, R. I., have voted for reincorporation under Rhode Island laws and issuance of new securities. The capital stock will be $2,000,000 in preferred shares and $1,000,000 in common, and holders of the old preferred may subscribe to $500,000 of the new preferred, par value $100 a share. Bodell & Co. have purchased $1,500,000 first mortgage 7 per cent. gold notes and a public offering is expected. The new securities are to be sold to increase working capital and provide for increased business. D. Goff & Sons, Inc., manufactures all worsted and worsted and cotton dress goods. Founded in 1864, it is one of the oldest concerns in its line in the United States.

Cotton Market Opening

New York, Dec. 5.—A crop estimate of 11,120,000 bales by the National Ginners' Association today was so far above general expectations that it caused the cotton market to open weaker at a net decline of 25 to 50 points. There was heavy buying of May by Japanese interests, but Liverpool sold later months freely. After the start the list was steadier at an advance of 30 points over initial figures. Opening prices were: December, 38.60; January, 36.50; March, 34.20; May, 32.50; July, 31.25; September, 29.40; October, 28.50.

Chicago Grain Market

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Corn opened ⅛c to ⅜c lower. Oats were unchanged to ⅛c lower. Provisions opened lower. Opening prices were: Corn—December, 1.39⅝; May, 1.33⅞; July, 1.33. Oats—December, 79⅞; May, 79½; July, 75⅝. Lard—January, 23.45.

October Rail Earnings

Net railway earnings by the country's largest railroads during October aggregated $64,079,411 compared with $73,132,812 for the corresponding 1918 month, according to Interstate Commerce Commission figures. For ten months earnings were $396,427,940 against $477,338,055.

Steel Rail Requirements

In the steel trade it is believed that railroads in this country will require at least a million tons of steel rails in 1920 and that orders are likely to be placed in excess of that tonnage if purchases can be financed. Steel mills are more concerned now over obtaining fuel and labor than future business.

Standard Oil Disbursements

Dividend cash disbursements by Standard Oil companies for the last quarter of this year will total $28,839,771 as compared with $24,035,000 for the corresponding three months of 1918.

NO U. S. APPEAL AGAINST THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Washington, Dec. 5. — Attorney General Palmer has just announced that the Government will not prosecute an appeal from the decree recently entered in favor of the defendants in the cases brought by the United States against the Southern Pacific Company et als. to satisfy patents for lands in California, on the ground that they were known to contain oil when the patents were procured.

Cotton Crop and Demand

The two latest estimates as to this year's cotton crop are as follows: Southern Products Co., 10,448,000 bales; Clement, Curtis & Co., 10,340,000. President Wanamaker informed the annual convention of South Carolina Cotton Association that British interests want to buy at least half of the 2,000,000 bales held by members of that body.

Consumers Buying Copper

A resumption of copper buying by consumers in this country is reported. It is said that sales this week aggregate about 200,000 pounds and that the price obtained for the metal was "close to 18 cents." Most of the deliveries will be made early next year. Foreign buying is at a standstill.

Amal. Leather Oversubscribed

Goldman, Sachs & Co. and Lehman Bros. announce that, due to heavy oversubscription for the preferred and common stocks of Amalgamated Leather Companies, Inc., they are unable to accept any more subscriptions and the books have been closed.

MUTUAL DIVIDE

WARNING

Certain irresponsible and for that reason unscrupulous individuals who are short of Mutual Divide (and are therefore unable to deliver certificates to their customers or brokers, as the case may be), have been circulating all kinds of untrue and disturbing stories in regard to the stock.

While these birds are wailing, Mutual will cross $5.00 this week, $6.00 before Christmas and $25 during the year 1920.

The same force that made possible the present rise in Mutual now prevails and will enable us to put Mutual to $5—$10—$15—$20—$25, and the higher it goes the easier it will be to put it higher.

Mutual Divide will make money for all of us provided we are guided by actual information received from those who are in control.

Don't take stock in rumors unless the sponsor is willing to vouch for them in writing. Write or come to our office and we will give you a signed statement setting forth the facts.

Net Earnings Over 20%

Nov. 1st, 1918, to Nov. 1st, 1919, shows $10 per share on outstanding $50 Preferred and $2 per share on $10 Common.

An analysis of the auditors' report of the Massachusetts Motors, Inc., for year ending November 1, 1919, should impress investors.

The book value of tangible assets per issued share of $50 Preferred stock, including reserves and undivided profits was $86.20.

Undivided surplus was $21.50 for each Preferred share.

Quarterly Preferred Stock dividends at the rate of 7% were paid Jan. 1, April 1, July 1, and Oct. 1.

Earnings for the year were twelve times Preferred Stock dividend requirements.

Large volume of business in proportion to capital required enormous borrowings, demanding interest and discount payments during the year equivalent to $15 per share on the issued Preferred. By increased capital this will be saved.

MASSACHUSETTS MOTORS, INC.

This is strictly a New England enterprise. Its general offices are in Boston. Its officers and directors are New England business men and bankers. Its growth has been phenomenal. It has branches and service-stations in ten cities. It has selling rights for cars of twenty of the best known makers.

ORGANIZATION Massachusetts Motors, Inc., is organized under the laws of Massachusetts and its stock is tax exempt in this State. Its capitalization consists of $1,000,000 of 7% cumulative, PARTICIPATING preferred stock, having a par value of $50, and $1,000,000 of common stock of a par value of $10 per share.

PREFERRED STOCK The purpose of the present financing is to eliminate this BANKING DEPENDENCY and add this interest charge outgo to profits and dividends. We now offer for the benefit of the treasury only, the unsold portion of twenty thousand shares of this preferred stock. It is preferred both as to assets and as to its accumulative dividend of 7% per annum. It is not retirable. It participates with the common equally above that figure. We recommend it as a safe 7% investment, and the surplus accumulated above this dividend requirement during the current year would seem to indicate the probability of ultimate dividend disbursement far in excess of this figure.

We have prepared for the benefit of our customers a twenty-four page booklet, illustrated by actual photographs of salesrooms and service stations, which we will be glad to send on request.

The first allotment will be sold at FIFTY DOLLARS PER SHARE. Reservations will be made only on payment of $10 per share, balance within four months. No interest will be charged on deferred payments, and purchasers will be entitled to dividends from last dividend date prior to payment of subscriptions in full. Dividends payable quarterly on the first day of January, April, July and October. Remittance by check, Postoffice, Express or telegraphic money order or bank draft should be made payable to and all inquiries should be addressed to

Weak Argument of Fin. Com. Against Pay Increase Asked by Teachers

So the Finance Commission has taken up the cudgel against raising the pay of the teachers of Boston to the amount requested by the teachers. The Finance Commission is not willing to give the teachers even as much as the School Committee. It is difficult to believe that the Finance Commission REALLY holds the position it publicly takes. In all probability its attitude is a strategic attempt to make the School Committee's granted increase prevail.

The Finance Commission argues that the high cost of living which is the basis of the teachers' demand for more pay is a temporary condition and it points to the fact that high cost of living follows every war for a short period and then conditions return to their normal level. In proof of this theory the Finance Commission cites the level of prices after the Civil War and their decline in a few years.

In the first place we do not suppose that the Finance Commission will argue that the high prices which prevailed after the Civil War went down within three or four weeks following the surrender at Appomattox. We assume that the Finance Commission knows enough to be able to admit offhand that Civil War prices did not fall for a number of years after the close of the war. This being the fact, it is difficult to understand how the Civil War prices and their subsequent decline gives us any aid in the discussion of the question of the school teachers' pay.

But since it has been cited by the Finance Commission, the school teachers might well meet this learned body of economists and cheeseparers upon their own ground. Assuming, therefore, that history will repeat itself and that prices will fall in this country as they did after the Civil War, we must nevertheless expect that the high prices will prevail for a number of years. Is it proposed that the teachers shall go on with their wages unadjusted for a number of years, rendering the same service for less remuneration for the benefit of the community?

Moreover, it is by no means certain that the prices WILL fall as they did after the Civil War. Conditions, especially with respect to our currency, are radically different today from the conditions immediately after the Civil War. Then there was a great currency inflation. Greenbacks had been issued by the millions and we were upon a bimetallic basis. When we resumed specie payment we greatly affected prices in a downward direction.

Moreover, the great fertile fields of the West were just opening and the cost of producing food was reduced so rapidly and so far that farms, the once comfortable homes of large American families, were everywhere abandoned throughout the Eastern country. Great Western fields that cost nothing, and were without stones and without the necessity of fertilization, produced the necessaries of life so cheaply that the Eastern farms which had supported the country could not compete with them. Now all those great unoccupied lands are gone and the cost of producing on these Western fields has mounted steadily. We have today nothing like the great West to pull down actual prices and we cannot resume specie payment to cut down nominal prices.

Professor Fisher of Yale, the distinguished economist who has specialized on the course of prices, testified in Washington recently before the National Commission on Street Railways that in his opinion the price level was not coming down for an indefinite period and he gave most cogent reasons for his opinion.

The Finance Commission ought to found its objection to the increase of teachers' salaries upon better reasons than the temporary character of our high cost of living.

High Taxicab Rates Are Hurting the City

In New York and in Washington and in most of the great cities the charge for taxicab service is very much less than the charge in Boston.

This does not help Boston. Anything which makes the stranger feel that he is not getting a square deal in Boston hurts the city. It also hurts the city to overcharge one of its own citizens. To be sure, the users of the taxicabs are fairly limited in number and are found mostly among the better-to-do. But the lower your taxi charges, the more who can afford to use them. Moreover, there are large numbers of us of ordinary means who frequently need a taxi.

The reason for the high Boston taxi charge probably lies in former Police Commissioner O'Meara's policy of allowing a monopoly of the natural taxi stands to one or two large taxi companies. This is contrary to the policy followed in New York and other great cities where anybody who has a taxi can stand his car wherever a stand is vacant.

Poor Telephone Service

Have you noticed the poor service from which we are suffering since the government gave up the control of the telephone company? There seems to be a perfect orgy of bad service in Boston recently.

What is the trouble? Why should the telephone service deteriorate as the arts and sciences advance? It is like the wonder which we feel at the increasing freight rates during the last twenty-five years on our railroads when we know that one engine today hauls five times what one engine could haul years ago and that automatic devices now enable one man to handle three times the freight cars that one man handled years ago, and yet the freight rates are higher—infinitely higher than they were then.

More Truth Than Poetry

ON GUARD FOR LIBERTY

By S. E. KISER

The National Tobacco League of America has opened headquarters in Washington and started a campaign to combat anti-tobacco legislation.

ARISE, O Sons of Freedom! Hasten
To build the barriers high and strong
Against the meddlers who would chasten
Us who may now and then go wrong!
We must not sit in corners dozing
Where wreathes of fragrant vapors float;
Too long we've been serene, supposing
The threatened danger was remote.

CEASE finding in advancing prices
Your only reason for concern,
But learn to prize your little vices
While still the sacred torches burn;
Guard well the stogie and the briar;
The antis may be on the way,
Filled with a virtuous desire
To legislate your smoke away.

LET'S hasten to be organizing
Against all dangers that impend;
Next week may see some wide uprising
To bring love-making to an end!
They who would save us from perdition
And shape our morals will not pause;
They have an everlasting mission,
A solemn and perpetual cause.

WHO knows how soon they may be thinking
We ought no longer to be free
To practice reckless coffee-drinking
Or wreck our lives with taking tea?
If Liberty is not to perish,
With every kind of pleasure barred,
We who have habits that we cherish
Must look alive and be on guard.

QUICK, brothers! Let Reform be given,
Without reserve, to understand
That Merriment shall not be driven
Forever from our glorious land!
No longer sit in meditation,
But, leagued for action, let us rise,
Lest there be further legislation
To hand us virtues we despise.

ONCE UPON a time.
YEARS AND years ago.
I WORKED for him.
ON A daily paper.
AND SOMETHING happened.
AND WE had trouble.
AND I'VE always insisted.
IT WASN'T my fault.
BUT IT doesn't matter.
AND I was fired.
AND AFTER that.
WE NEVER were friends.
AND WE didn't speak.
AND HE always had money.
AND I didn't.
AND HE belonged to clubs.
AND I didn't.
AND HE had an automobile.
AND I didn't.
AND I hadn't seen him.
FOR A long time.
AND HAD forgotten about him.
TILL THE other day.
AND I went into dinner.
AND SAT at a table.
AND COOKED around.
AND THERE he was.
AT THE very next table
AND WE almost spoke.
AND I wanted to ask him.
HOW THE old town was.
BUT I didn't dare.
AND HE'S getting fat.
AND LOOKING prosperous.
AND HAD started with oysters.
AND WHAT I had planned.
WAS A slice of roast beef.

I CAN'T spell the name.
BUT A plume comes with it.

AND IT looks very grand.
AND SOME melted butter.

QUICKSILVER METAL OF WONDROUS MYSTERY

By Garrett P. Serviss

READING in a bulletin of the Geographical Survey of new discoveries of mercury deposits in Arizona, I am reminded of the extraordinary character of that wonderful metal, which is very imperfectly known to many of us, notwithstanding the fact that it is an "ancient" element.

It is no wonder that mercury puzzled the alchemists and led the more superstitious among them to imagine that it was a kind of tricksy spirit, with whose aid limitless marvels might be performed. It is no wonder, either, that they named it for that commercial traveller of the gods, Mercury, just as they bestowed the same name upon the glittering little planet that dodges from sunrise and sunset skies, and back again, with ceaseless activity, confronting the god of day far more closely than any other planet can bear to go.

Impresses Imagination

It is equally easy to see why in the wonder-worshipping middle ages they called it quicksilver—i. e., "live silver"—for there is no other inanimate thing that bears so striking an appearance of animation.

A metal (a brother, chemically, to iron and lead and gold) which, in our everyday world, exists in the liquid instead of the solid state, and refuses to become solid at all until the temperature has fallen 40 degrees below zero, and which, on the other hand, is so ready for anything frolicsome and full of movement and vivacity that if heated to only 360 degrees (far below red heat) it puts on the freedom of a vapor and becomes as colorless as air, though seven times as heavy. So eccentric a metal as that is certainly well calculated to make us wonder. But its marvels do not cease there.

When you drop a bit of quicksilver on a clean sheet of paper or a clean glass plate it gathers itself up in a little, glittering ball, because the cohesive forces of its own molecules are all focussed toward their common centre and are not opposed to any adhesive force tending to make them adhere to the paper or the glass.

But if you drop the same quicksilver on a plate of metal or on any surface in such a condition that adhesion readily takes place it will spread out, more or less, and the wonderful animation of its former movements will be lost. Mercury has an affinity for other metals, which is manifested by its actually dissolving many of them, and this fact lies at the bottom of its altered behavior when it comes in contact with them. But the explanation of its curious changes of conduct depends upon the property of "surface tension," which, through the cohesive attraction of their molecules, causes "all liquids to behave as if their free surfaces were stretched skins."

One of Nature's Poems

Everybody who wishes to keep abreast with the flying world in these days of scientific achievement ought to look into the subject of surface tension. It is truly fascinating. It is one of nature's poems.

The property of mercury of dissolving certain metals and forming amalgams with them has given it great importance in the extraction of gold and silver from their ores. When rock containing gold in minute particles is crushed and shaken up with mercury the latter dissolves the gold, forming an amalgam free from the rock substance, after which the mercury can be got rid of by heating it, leaving the gold free. So this volatile metal serves as a kind of lure for the capture of members of its own species; its embrace is a Judas kiss.

GREAT NEW NOVEL BY H. RIDER HAGGARD

The first installment of Sir H. Rider Haggard's latest and best novel introduces the reading public of New England to a thrilling new story of love and adventure done in the style peculiar to this great author. The maker of the famous author of "She" and a host of other novels no less exciting is in itself to insure a tale far above the ordinary. "She and Allan" is fully up to all expectations. You will want to read it. Beautifully illustrated by V. Aderente, it begins in the magazine section of next Sunday's

BOSTON SUNDAY ADVERTISER

FEW OF US ARE CAPTAINS OF OUR SOULS

By Mrs. Wilson Woodrow

HOW many people do we meet who can take the hard facts of life with either calmness or philosophy? I suppose each of us could count on his fingers those we know, who are so far "captains of their souls."

The trouble with most of us is that we not only go to meet our woes half-way, we brood over them, talk over them, exaggerate them until they fill our whole horizon, and we are unable to see anything else. We are too impressionable, too emotional; we do not get a proper perspective on our affairs, and are therefore incapable of coping with them.

A large proportion of the letters I receive contain these sentences: "I see no way out of my present situation; I can't sleep for thinking of it." "I have done all I could and now I feel as if I were at the end of my string." "I should be glad if I were to go to sleep, and never wake up." This, of course, indicates a high state of nervous tension.

Suppose they were to say to themselves: "Here am I, like a fly stuck fast in fly-paper; what am I to do? He would say, 'I have nearly pulled my legs off trying to get out of this sticky mess, and I have broken my wings, and it's all no good. Since the inevitable faces me, I'll try and pass the time comfortably by taking a nap.'"

Usually Some Hope

But few situations are ever so desperate as that. There is usually some ray of hope, some door that unexpectedly may open. Should one then cease to make all effort and succumb without having done everything in his power to extricate himself?

Did you ever notice that the people who are temperamentally not given to worry and who take things light-heartedly are the ones who slip along easily through life? Trouble slides off their shoulders like water off a duck's back, and some way or another the crooked paths are always made straight for them. They simply do not attract dull care, and dull care ignores them. And the moral of their lives is that if you allow yourself to worry, you are always going to have something to worry about. If it isn't one thing, it's another.

A woman told me that she was naturally down-hearted; she had always taken the mournful view of everything. Also, her life held many distressing perplexities. She said that she had reached a point where she was on the verge of melancholia, when she decided to face about in the other direction.

Force Self to Smile

Every night before she went to bed, she made it a point to recall all the pleasant things or half-way pleasant things that had happened to her during the day. She fixed her mind steadily on these, and refused to consider the doleful or annoying happenings.

She also said that she taught herself to smile. It was just a mechanical widening of the mouth at first, but she kept bravely on until it became the real thing, and she even reached the point where she could laugh heartily several times during the twenty-four hours.

It is difficult, seeing her now, to believe that she ever wailed so perpetually as she says she did; but it only shows what the human mind can be taught to accomplish, if it is persistently put through its paces.

Science Notes

Among the anti-skidding devices for automobiles is one in which pronged bars mounted near the wheels can be lowered by a driver against the tires when the lateral movement begins.

To increase the resiliency of solid rubber tires on motor trucks an inventor has patented a wheel supported by six round rubber cushions, which, with their inclosing rings, fill the entire rim.

Asia is believed to have the largest quantity of coal of any continent, the world's total supply being estimated at 7,397,533,000,000 tons, of which nearly 4,000,000,000,000 are bituminous.
